

An aerial photograph of a coastal city, likely Sydney, Australia. The image shows a wide sandy beach with many people, bordered by a dense line of high-rise apartment buildings. The ocean is a vibrant turquoise color with white surf. The sky is a pale, hazy blue. The text of the book title is overlaid on the upper half of the image.

Towards a Sociology of the Coast

Our Past, Present and Future Relationship to the Shore

Nick Osbaldiston

Towards a Sociology of the Coast

Nick Osbaldiston

Towards a Sociology of the Coast

Our Past, Present and Future
Relationship to the Shore

palgrave
macmillan

Nick Osbaldiston
James Cook University
Cairns, Australia

ISBN 978-1-137-48679-0 ISBN 978-1-137-48680-6 (eBook)
DOI 10.1057/978-1-137-48680-6

Library of Congress Control Number: 2017953882

© The Editor(s) (if applicable) and The Author(s) 2018

The author(s) has/have asserted their right(s) to be identified as the author(s) of this work in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.

This work is subject to copyright. All rights are solely and exclusively licensed by the Publisher, whether the whole or part of the material is concerned, specifically the rights of translation, reprinting, reuse of illustrations, recitation, broadcasting, reproduction on microfilms or in any other physical way, and transmission or information storage and retrieval, electronic adaptation, computer software, or by similar or dissimilar methodology now known or hereafter developed.

The use of general descriptive names, registered names, trademarks, service marks, etc. in this publication does not imply, even in the absence of a specific statement, that such names are exempt from the relevant protective laws and regulations and therefore free for general use.

The publisher, the authors and the editors are safe to assume that the advice and information in this book are believed to be true and accurate at the date of publication. Neither the publisher nor the authors or the editors give a warranty, express or implied, with respect to the material contained herein or for any errors or omissions that may have been made. The publisher remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps and institutional affiliations.

Cover illustration: Nina Rose / EyeEm / getty images

Printed on acid-free paper

This Palgrave Macmillan imprint is published by Springer Nature

The registered company is Macmillan Publishers Ltd.

The registered company address is: The Campus, 4 Crinan Street, London, N1 9XW, United Kingdom

Acknowledgements

In all my work, there seems to be a multitude of people who have contributed to my intellectual and scholarly understanding, and it would be remiss of me not to acknowledge them for their assistance in this book. Firstly, I would like to give thanks to the editors at Palgrave Macmillan, especially Joanna O'Neill, for supporting this rather ambitious project and for pushing me along with patience and at times with tough love. I also would like to thank the anonymous reviews of the book and hope that it has fulfilled some of their concerns and critiques. I am very indebted to Palgrave for now working with me over two monographs and two edited volumes. Secondly, I owe a debt of gratitude to my colleagues and friends who have mentored me and given me great advice over the years; Gavin Kendall, Gary Wickham, Brad West, Lynda Cheshire, Michaela Benson, Michelle Duffy, Peta Cook, Jon Barnett, Ruth Fincher and Anna Hurlimann. Thirdly, I would also like to thank the staff in the Sociology Department at Goldsmiths University of London for having me along as a visiting scholar and allowing me to present this work in its early infancy for feedback. Fourthly, I would definitely like to thank the wonderful people at both the Gold Coast and Noosa Shire Libraries for their excellent help in assisting me through the myriads of archives and photographs of coasts. Fifthly, none of my work is possible without the support of good friends and family, and I would like to give my sincere thanks to the following people: Anna Hayes for listening and letting me share my ideas with her; Robyn Glade-Wright for inspiring me with her artwork and showing me the links between sociology and visual art in ways I have never thought of; Theresa Petray for always being a great example of academic kindness and collegiality; Fabian Cannizzo and Christian Mauri for reading through several draft chapters and for providing me with frank advice and feedback; to my wonderful colleague in writing, Felicity Picken, for inspiring me always and for giving me insights into theory that I would never understand in my own world; and to Michaela Benson for providing me with so many wonderful opportunities to develop as an academic over the years and for her support always. Also to my many students over the past decade, your wrangling with sociology has helped and inspired me greatly in our classroom discussions and debates.

Of course, none of this is possible without the love and unconditional support of Bianca, Scarlett, Ollie and Henri and my other family members who I owe everything and more to.

Lastly, to Max Weber whose work has inspired several including myself greatly over the years and whose work still resonates with me today—thank you.

Contents

1	Introduction: Towards a Sociology of Coasts	1
2	Method and Theory	13
3	The Premodern Coast	35
4	The Modern Coast: Flinders the Explorer	67
5	The Noosa Story: Early Modernity Meets Lifestyle	99
6	The Lifestyle Coast: Protecting the Authentic	123
7	The Surfers Paradise Story: Modernity Meets Adventure on the Coast	153
8	The Adventure Coast: The Glitz and Glamour of Surfers Paradise, Hedonism, Transgression and the Adventure	183

9	Coastal Futures: Critically Engaging with Promethean Power on the Shore	221
10	Conclusion: Departing Remarks on the Sociology of the Coast	253
	Index	269

List of Figures

Fig. 3.1	The Second Day from the series The Creation of the World —Hendrick Goltzius 1594 (Image courtesy of the Metropolitan Museum of Art)	42
Fig. 3.2	The Flood (Diluvium) from Ovid's Metamorphoses —Antonio Tempesta 1606. (Image courtesy of Metropolitan Museum of Art)	53
Fig. 4.1	Matthew Flinders Portrait. Painter unknown. Commissioned by John J. Shillinglaw 1870. (Image courtesy of State Library of Victoria)	75
Fig. 4.2	Model of the Investigator , approximately 1930. (Image courtesy of the State Library of South Australia)	83
Fig. 5.1	Map of Noosa and surrounding region. (Map data: Google Earth Pro 2017)	100
Fig. 5.2	Day-trippers to Noosa, 1920. Photographer unknown. (Image courtesy of Noosa Library Service/Picture Noosa)	116
Fig. 6.1	Noosa Headland looking East, ca. 1920. Photographer unknown (Image courtesy of Noosa Library Service/Picture Noosa)	130
Fig. 6.2	Beach at Double Island Point, Cooloolaa Coast, 1930. Photographer unknown (Image courtesy of Noosa Library Services/Picture Noosa)	144
Fig. 6.3	Noosa Main Beach during Surf Carnival. (Image courtesy of Fiona Maclean)	148

x List of Figures

Fig. 7.1	Surfers Paradise and surrounds. (Map data Google Earth Pro, 2017)	155
Fig. 7.2	Campers at Coolangatta, 1914. Photographer unknown (Image courtesy of City of Gold Coast Study Libraries)	171
Fig. 7.3	Family group in bathing costume with a dinghy on the Esplanade North of the Southport Pier, ca. 1918, Herbert Arundel, photographer. (Image courtesy of City of Gold Coast Study Libraries)	175
Fig. 8.1	Surfers Paradise Hotel, Surfer Paradise, ca. 1928. Photographer unknown (Image courtesy of City of Gold Coast Study Libraries)	186
Fig. 8.2	Meter Maid Antoinette Stengel on parking meter patrol in Nerang Street, Southport, 1971. Bob Avery, photographer. (Image courtesy of City of Gold Coast Studies Library)	200
Fig. 8.3	View along the Esplanade, Surfers Paradise, 1965, Photographer unknown. (Image courtesy of the City of Gold Coast Studies Library)	208
Fig. 8.4	Aerial view of the heart of Surfers Paradise, Queensland, 1982, Photographer unknown. (Image courtesy of City of Gold Coast Studies Library)	214
Fig. 10.1	From left to right Very Fishy , 2016; Cyclone , 2016; Coast , 2016; Washed Up , 2016. Art Installation Red Tide , Robyn Glade-Wright. (Image courtesy of Robyn Glade-Wright)	264