Communities Working Together

How Country and Regional University Centres are Changing Employability in Regional & Rural Australia

Ben Archer

What are Regional University Centres?

- Not-for-Profit organisations that provide support for students completing university studies online.
 - Dedicated study space with I.T. support (wifi, printing)
 - Support services
 - Counselling
 - Career Support
 - Academic support
- Exist in communities that are geographically isolated.

Impact on Communities

- Regional University Centres exist to help keep students remain in their communities.
 - Provides an option for young people to study without moving to cities.
 - Enables people remaining in their community to have greater access to support when studying.
 - Can assist in raising aspirations.

Research – Collaboration and Employment

RQ1: How do regional university centres collaborate with their broader communities?

RQ2: What influence does this collaboration have on the career outcomes of students within these centres?

Cadetship Opportunities for Students Supported by TUC

We've partnered with a group of brilliant MidCoast businesses to create a mutually beneficial opportunity for online students and local employers alike.

Students engaged in specific supported degrees - outlined below - are eligible to receive additional support in connecting with paid cadetship opportunities in our area.

- Want to participate in a local cadetship? Apply online
- Are you a local business owner looking for a cadet to join your team? Get in touch with us

- Dialectical behavioural theory can be used to explain how this theory plays out in cadetship programs established by Regional University Centres.

- Private Sector Firm has a skills shortage
- Social Enterprise (University Centre) can assist in filling need by providing additional training OR graduate.

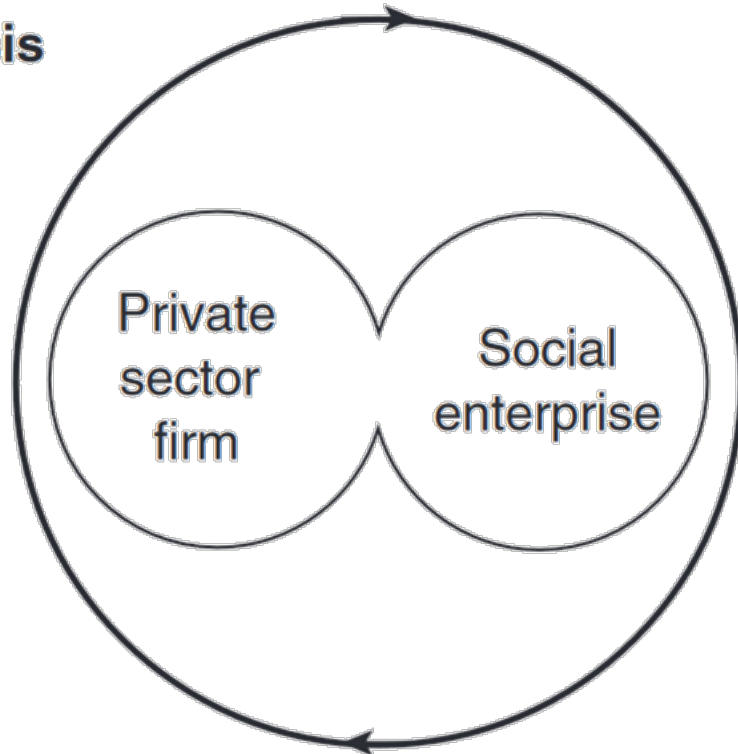

The 'How' of Collaboration

- The values of the two organisations are different:
 - Private Sector Firm seeks to create value from their employees
 - Cadet and graduate employees are typically low value
 - Regional University Centres seek to increase the number of qualified people in the local region
 - Students may feel conflicted between completing their studies or providing more value to their employers.

Resolving Dissonance and Values Clashes

Synthesis

Emergence of new organization/collaborative state

- TUC anticipated these challenges by establishing cadetship agreements with each employer on a student-by-student basis.
- Current program is centred on Accounting, Finance and Human Resources

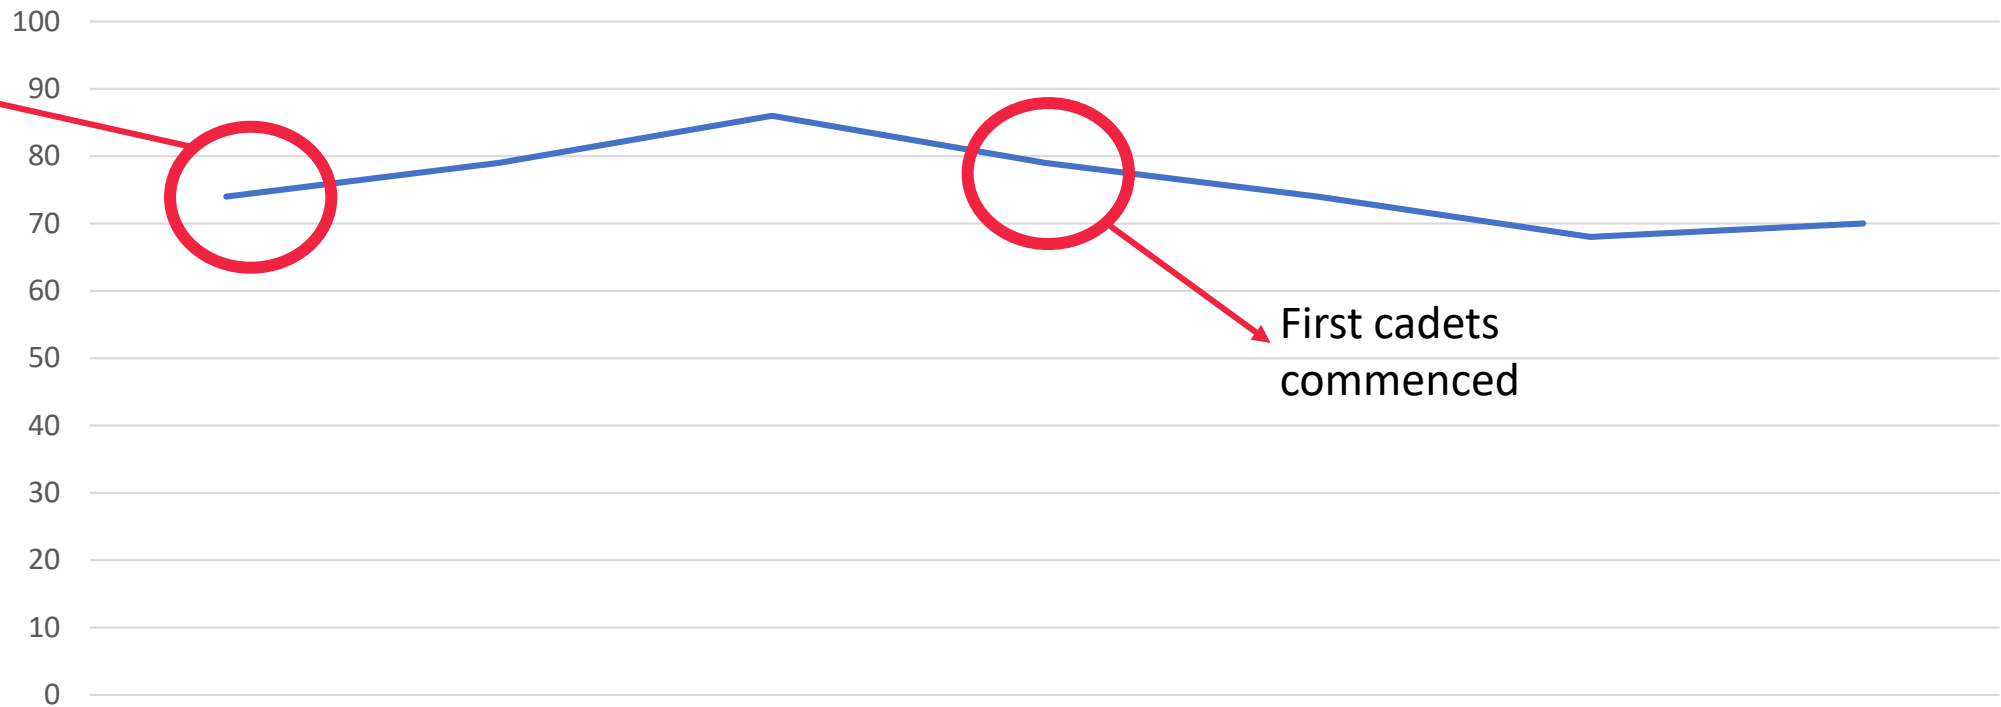

Key Metrics for Students

- Hours of work reflect the nature of study
 - e.g. A student completing full-time study is restricted to 2 days work per week during term time.
- Students must maintain a 100% pass rate for all their subjects
- Students are paid in accordance with national minimum wage for their industry
- An offer of full-time employment is made to the cadet for a minimum of one year following their graduation.

Future Research

- Examine student longevity in the program.
 - Currently students are completing part-time (1 to 2 units per study period).
- Examine whether students remain with their employer post-graduation
- Determine applicability for other industries.
