

Response to Österblom et al. 2023. "To split a stone"

Splitting stones

Paul N. Nelson¹

Key Words: science; art; nature; human

After several decades of individually and collaboratively delving into science and art, it seems to me they are essentially the same thing: a set of approaches and tools to discover, understand, and create (Fig. 1).

Fig. 1. A collaboration with sand crabs (sand, water, digital photography).

